Plaintiff Larry James Tyler, proceeding pro se, files this action pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983. Plaintiff is a pretrial detainee in the Darlington County Detention Center, and files this action in forma pauperis under 28 U.S.C. § 1915.

Under established local procedure in this judicial district, a careful review has been made of the pro se complaint pursuant to the procedural provisions of 28 U.S.C. § 1915, 28 U.S.C. § 1915A, the Prison Litigation Reform Act, and in light of the following precedents: Denton v. Hernandez, 504 U.S. 25 (1992); Neitzke v. Williams, 490 U.S. 319, 324-25 (1989); Haines v. Kerner, 404 U.S. 519 (1972); Nasim v. Warden, Maryland House of Correction, 64 F.3d 951 (4th Cir. 1995) (en banc); Todd v. Baskerville, 712 F.2d 70 (4th Cir. 1983); and Boyce v. Alizaduh, 595 F.2d 948 (4th Cir. 1979). Pro se complaints are held to a less stringent standard than those drafted by attorneys, Gordon v. Leeke, 574 F.2d 1147, 1151 (4th Cir.), and a federal district court is charged with liberally construing a complaint filed by a pro se litigant to allow the development of a potentially meritorious case. See Hughes v. Rowe, 449 U.S. 5, 9 (1980); and Cruz v. Beto, 405 U.S. 319 (1972). When a federal court is evaluating a pro se complaint the plaintiff's allegations are assumed to be true. Fine v. City of N. Y., 529 F.2d 70, 74 (2nd Cir. 1975). However, even when considered under this less stringent standard, the complaint submitted in the above-captioned case is subject to summary dismissal. The requirement of liberal construction does not mean that the court can ignore a clear failure in the pleading to allege facts which set forth a claim currently cognizable in a federal district court. Weller v. Department of Soc. Servs., 901 F.2d 387 (4th Cir. 1990).

Plaintiff sues Darlington County Magistrate Judge James E. Thomas, claiming he engaged in "illegal action and conduct by a judge in [a] court of law." According to the Complaint, Judge Thomas told the Plaintiff "I despise people like you." Plaintiff also alleges Judge Thomas set his bond "exorbitantly high," seeks a new bond hearing, and asks that Judge Thomas be disciplined. However, it is well established that judges enjoy immunity from suit for actions taken in their judicial capacity. See Mireles v. Waco, 502 U.S. 9 (1991); Stump v. Sparkman, 435 U.S. 349, 351-64 (1978); Pressly v. Gregory, 831 F.2d 514, 517 (4th Cir. 1987) [a suit by South Carolina inmate against two Virginia magistrates]; and Chu v. Griffith, 771 F.2d 79, 81 (4th Cir. 1985) ("It has long been settled that a judge is absolutely immune from a claim for damages arising out of his judicial actions."). See also Siegert v. Gilley, 500 U.S. 226 (1991) [immunity presents a threshold question which should be resolved before discovery is even allowed]; and Mitchell v. Forsyth, 472 U.S. 511, 526 (1985) (absolute immunity "is an immunity from suit rather than a mere defense to liability"). Accord Bolin v. Story, 225 F.3d 1234 (11th Cir. 2000) [discussing judicial immunity of United States District Judges and United States Circuit Judges]. Further, while Plaintiff is apparently not seeking any monetary damages against Judge Thomas, absent extraordinary circumstances federal courts are not authorized to interfere with a State's pending criminal proceedings. See, e.g., Younger v. Harris, 401 U.S. 37 (1971)[“Since the beginning of this country’s history Congress has, subject to few exceptions, manifested a desire to permit state courts to try state cases free from interference by federal courts”]; and Cinema Blue of Charlotte, Inc. v. Gilchrist, 887 F.2d 49 (4th Cir. 1989). In Cinema Blue of Charlotte, Inc. v. Gilchrist, the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit ruled that federal district courts should abstain from constitutional challenges to state judicial proceedings, no matter how meritorious, if the federal claims have been or could be presented in an ongoing state judicial proceeding. Cinema Blue of Charlotte, Inc. v. Gilchrist, 887 F.2d at 52. Hence, with respect to Plaintiff’s claim that Judge Thomas set his bond “exorbitantly high,” and therefore seeks a new bond hearing, any challenge to Plaintiff’s bond may be presented in his ongoing state proceedings.

It is also well settled that the use of abusive language is not a basis for a civil rights action. Grandstaff v. City of Borger, 767 F.2d 161 (5th Cir. 1985) (there is no federal constitutional right to be free from emotional distress, psychological stress, or mental anguish, and, hence, there is no liability under § 1983 regarding such claims). Therefore, since abusive language is not actionable under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, the alleged comment at issue in this case (“I despise people like you.”) is not actionable under 42 U.S.C. § 1983. Finally, this Court also does not have jurisdiction to discipline Judge Thomas.

RECOMMENDATION

Accordingly, since the claims which Plaintiff presents are not actionable in this Court, it is recommended that the Court dismiss the complaint in the above-captioned case without prejudice and without issuance and service of process. See Denton v. Hernandez, supra; Neitzke v. Williams, supra; Haines v. Kerner, supra; Todd v. Baskerville, supra, 712 F.2d at 74; 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2)(B); and 28 U.S.C. § 1915A [the court shall review, as soon as practicable after docketing, prisoner cases to determine whether they are subject to any grounds for dismissal].
